

Technology, Artificial Intelligence and Design Justice for All

Q&A with researcher/designer Sasha Costanza-Chock

Wed, Apr 30 / 12 PM - 1:30 PM

Center for Black Studies Research, South Hall 4603

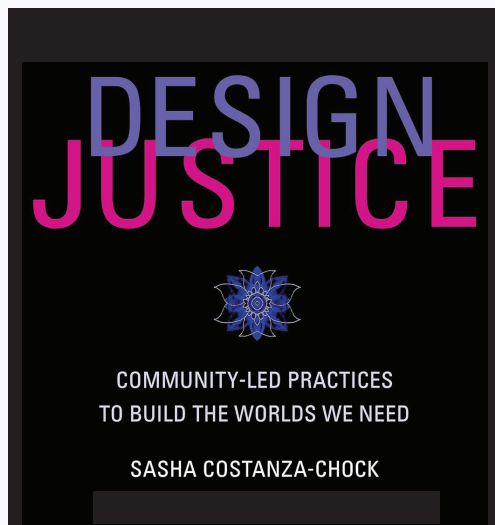

FREE (all students, faculty and staff welcome)
Snacks and refreshments provided

Join Sasha Costanza-Chock, a researcher and designer known for their work on networked social movements, transformative media organizing and design justice, for an informal Q&A moderated by Center for Black Studies Research Director Sharon Tettegah, whose work centers on the intersection of STEM learning, emotions, equity and social justice. Book signing to follow.

Justice for All Faculty Advisory Committee:

Daina Ramey Berry, Dolores Inés Casillas, Charles Hale, Beth Pruitt, Susannah Scott, Jeffrey Stewart, and Sharon Tettegah

Presented in association with UCSB Center for Black Studies Research, College of Creative Studies, and Resource Center for Sexual and Gender Diversity

Registration Recommended

JUSTICE
FOR ALL