About The Facilitator

Dr. Ebenezer Larnyo, a postdoctoral scholar at the CBSR, with a Ph.D. in Management Science and Engineering, specializes in data-driven healthcare frameworks that enhance quality of life and access to care. His expertise includes using healthcare technologies and data science to address disparities and improve patient outcomes.

About The Workshop

Students nearing the completion of their programs often face challenges in transitioning from academia to industry. This workshop will equip them with the tools and strategies to identify opportunities, market their academic skills, and successfully navigate the non-academic job market.

This event will be recorded.
