

World Premiere
Commissioned by UCSB Arts & Lectures

Everything Rises: Jennifer Koh and Davóne Tines

Tue, Apr 12 / 8 PM / Campbell Hall /

$35 / FREE for UCSB students

“The excellence of Ms. Koh’s playing will surprise no one who knows the quality and integrity of her work.” The New York Times

“Davóne Tines is a singer of immense power and fervor.” Los Angeles Times

Everything Rises is an original staged musical work about reclaiming agency through ancestral memory. Featuring music, projections and recorded interviews, it centers the need for artists of color to be seen and heard through connection and the creation of a new artistic space. Created by an all-BIPOC creative team, the project powerfully reclaims Koh and Tines’ narratives about who they are and how they became the artists and the visionary forces that created this work.

Stay after the performance for a Q&A with the artists.

Justice for All Lead Sponsors:

Marcy Carsey, Connie Frank & Evan Thompson, Zegar Family Foundation, and Anonymous

Supporting Sponsor: Annette & Dr. Richard Caleel

Made possible by gifts to the A&L Commission of New Work Endowment Fund

Presented in association with the UCSB Department of Music and the UCSB MultiCultural Center